During the pandemic, trafficking was more violent and profitable. With empty streets, traffickers transitioned much of their criminal activity to online buyers.

Youth

US federal law: under the age of 18 in a commercial sex act is a victim of Sex Trafficking without prosecution. Safe Harbor Laws in MN instead offer support services to 24 years and under.

- Digital “dating” and “cat fishing” to recruit youth into the life
- ‘Hunting the Reservation’ and vulnerable rural areas
- Runaway and/or homeless youth in urban areas for food or basic needs
- Love-Bombing, starting an exploitive relationship as a grooming strategy with a goal of future trafficking --

WHAT DO TRAFFICKERS LOOK FOR?

Anyone can be a victim of trafficking, regardless of gender, gender identity, race or ethnicity, sexual orientation, or socioeconomic status. Poverty exacerbates trafficking. Traffickers use violence and exploitation in a multi-million dollar industry to groom vulnerable populations, often for basic needs.

According to Safe Voices & Office on Trafficking in Persons Traffickers, traffickers target people who are vulnerable, at-risk, and often exposed to other forms of violence such as:

- child abuse/neglect or maltreatment
- domestic violence and sexual assault relationships
- friends or family recruitment of those already being trafficked
- unmonitored and dangerous youth community activities or gang violence
- individuals disconnected from stable support networks
- homeless, hungry, addicted (exploitation exchanges place to stay, food, drugs/alcohol)
- depressed, vulnerable, or individuals appearing to have no support/monitoring
- incarcerated adults in re-entry or youth in foster care systems
- luring victims with false promises like modeling, acting, dancing, drumming, or ceremony

INTERVENTION, WHAT TO LOOK FOR

Sex trafficking is preventable. Efforts have focused on increasing community awareness of human trafficking and addressing exploitation after it occurs. Know how to identify grooming & trafficking by understanding the signs and taking the right steps.

SIGNS

- controlling or dominating partner or friend
- explicit photos on phone or social media
- prepaid or multiple cell phones
- unexplained injuries or STI/STDs
- unusual tattoos, branding, or scars
- unexplained new clothes, gifts, or money
- using drugs or alcohol to medicate mood/emotions
- late nights/unusual hours

STEPS

- reducing risks and risky behavior
- monitoring phone or social media
- immediate response to medical needs
- be clear about love, forgiveness, & support
- identify unique and present risk factors
- increase buffers to violence and danger
- expand family & community awareness
- report strangers or unusual people around
- know who to contact to report or get help
